Newsletter 6

Dear Parents,

Thank you to FOSGS for organising the Children's Disco today. I am sure the children will have a great time. I would like to follow up on a few conversations that took place between parents and the office team this morning about the lack of late availability of infant disco tickets. The parents who are organising this FOSGS event made a decision at their planning meeting that all infant tickets had to be bought by parents over a two week period in the run up to the disco and by Wed 5th December at the latest. The reason for this was that lists were then drawn up which act as the register for the children who will be in the hall after school today. The safety of the children is at the heart of this decision. This has been done carefully by the organising committee. The school admin team members support FOSGS but it is not their fault that tickets were not available this morning. I am sorry if you were disappointed today. Please join the FOSGS Committee if you feel you have some time to help with the organisation and decisions made.

We look forward to seeing you in school over the next two weeks. The children are excited and have been working hard in their rehearsals.
